Germantown High School
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
June 1973

A yearbook is about reflections. Today it is the mirror image. We see ourselves as we are — now. In ten or twenty years these reflections become memories. A figure reflected in water is influenced by time, space, atmosphere. So we, too, shall be changed and tempered by time, experience, history. When we look through these pages then, we will see where we came from and know better what we have become.

Mr. Ruffin

Mr. Santee C. Ruffin, Jr. received his B. S. and his M. Ed. degrees from Temple University. He began his career in September of 1955 teaching third grade pupils. Since that time Mr. Ruffin has taught Health and Physical Education and has coached soccer, basketball, and track and field teams. In October of 1968 Mr. Ruffin became the Assistant Director in the Division of Physical and Health Education for the entire school system. In January, 1970, he became the principal of Germantown High School.

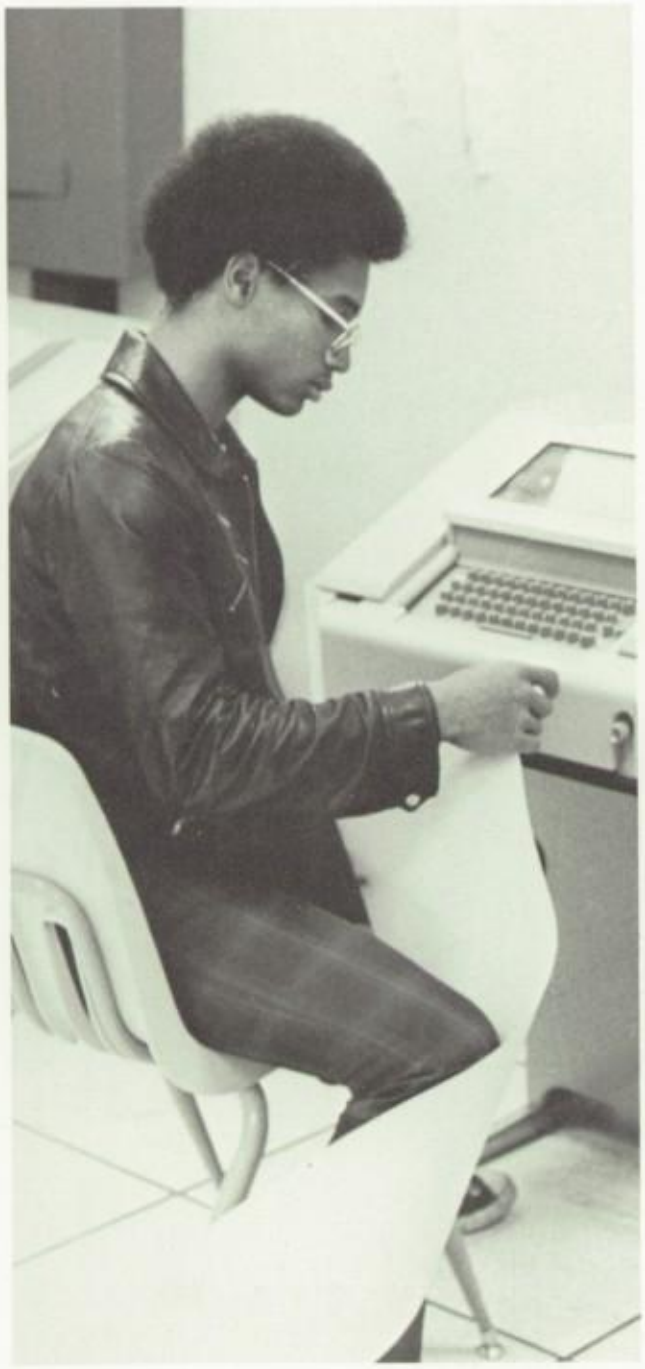
A quality education for all students in every area of their studies, a strong school spirit with pride in Germantown High School, and a chance for each student to know where he or she is going are the ultimate goals of Mr. Ruffin's philosophy of education.

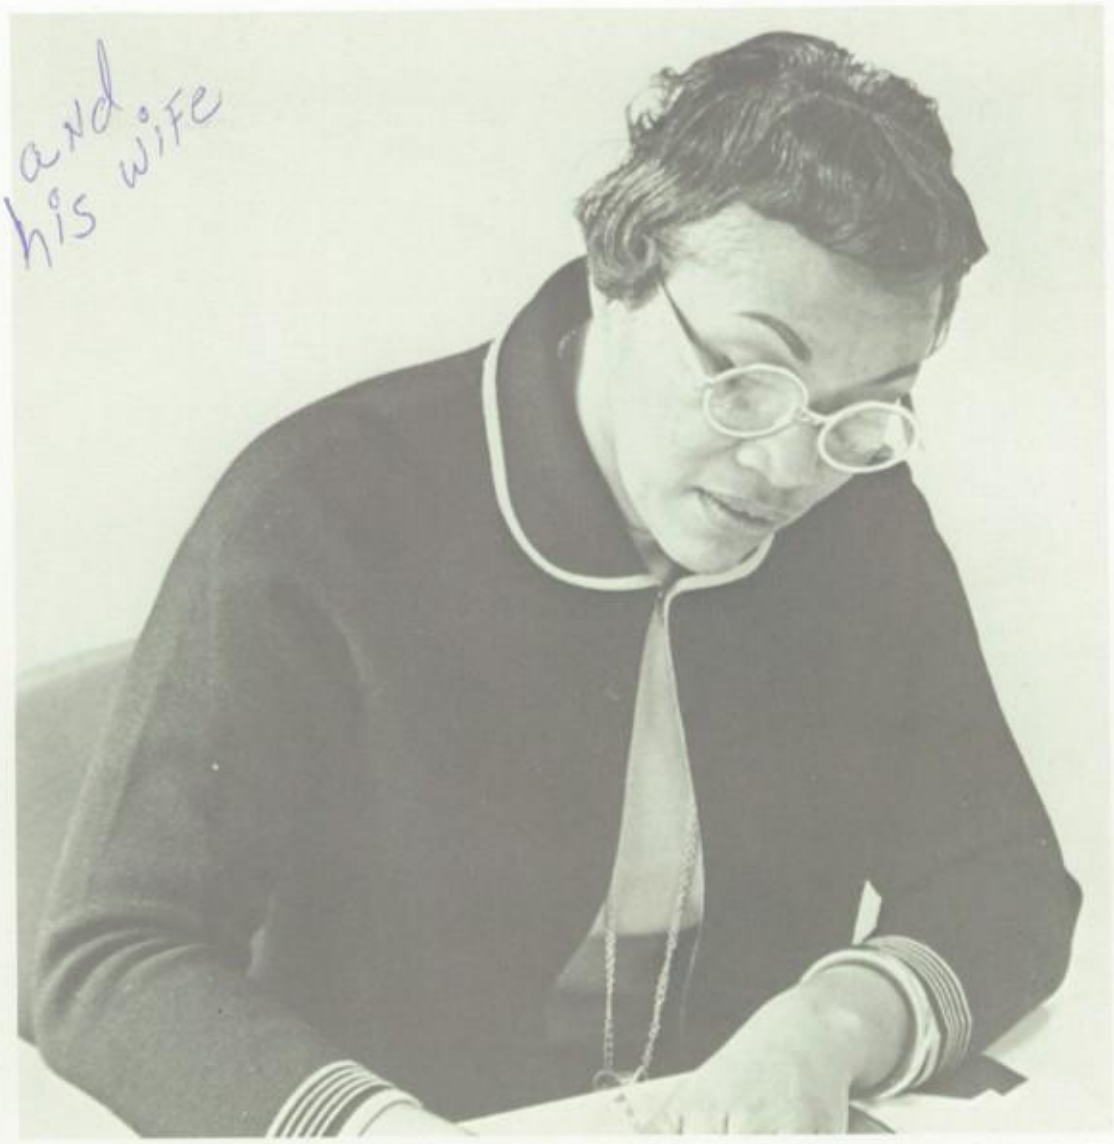
Sergeant Rock

Mr. James Peters is a new vice-principal at Germantown. He taught history and worked as a disciplinary teacher at Frankford High for fourteen years. He is an enthusiastic sports fan and feels that a good sports program is important because it sparks school spirit and community involvement.

Mr. Peters works primarily with discipline problems and feels that our main difficulties involve only a "small minority of the student body." These problems include lateness, attendance, and corner boys.

When asked about advice to seniors, Mr. Peters replied, "I hate to give advice. Advice is cheap." He says that by the time a student graduates, he has already heard everything. He only hopes that Germantown is remembered in a positive manner by all.

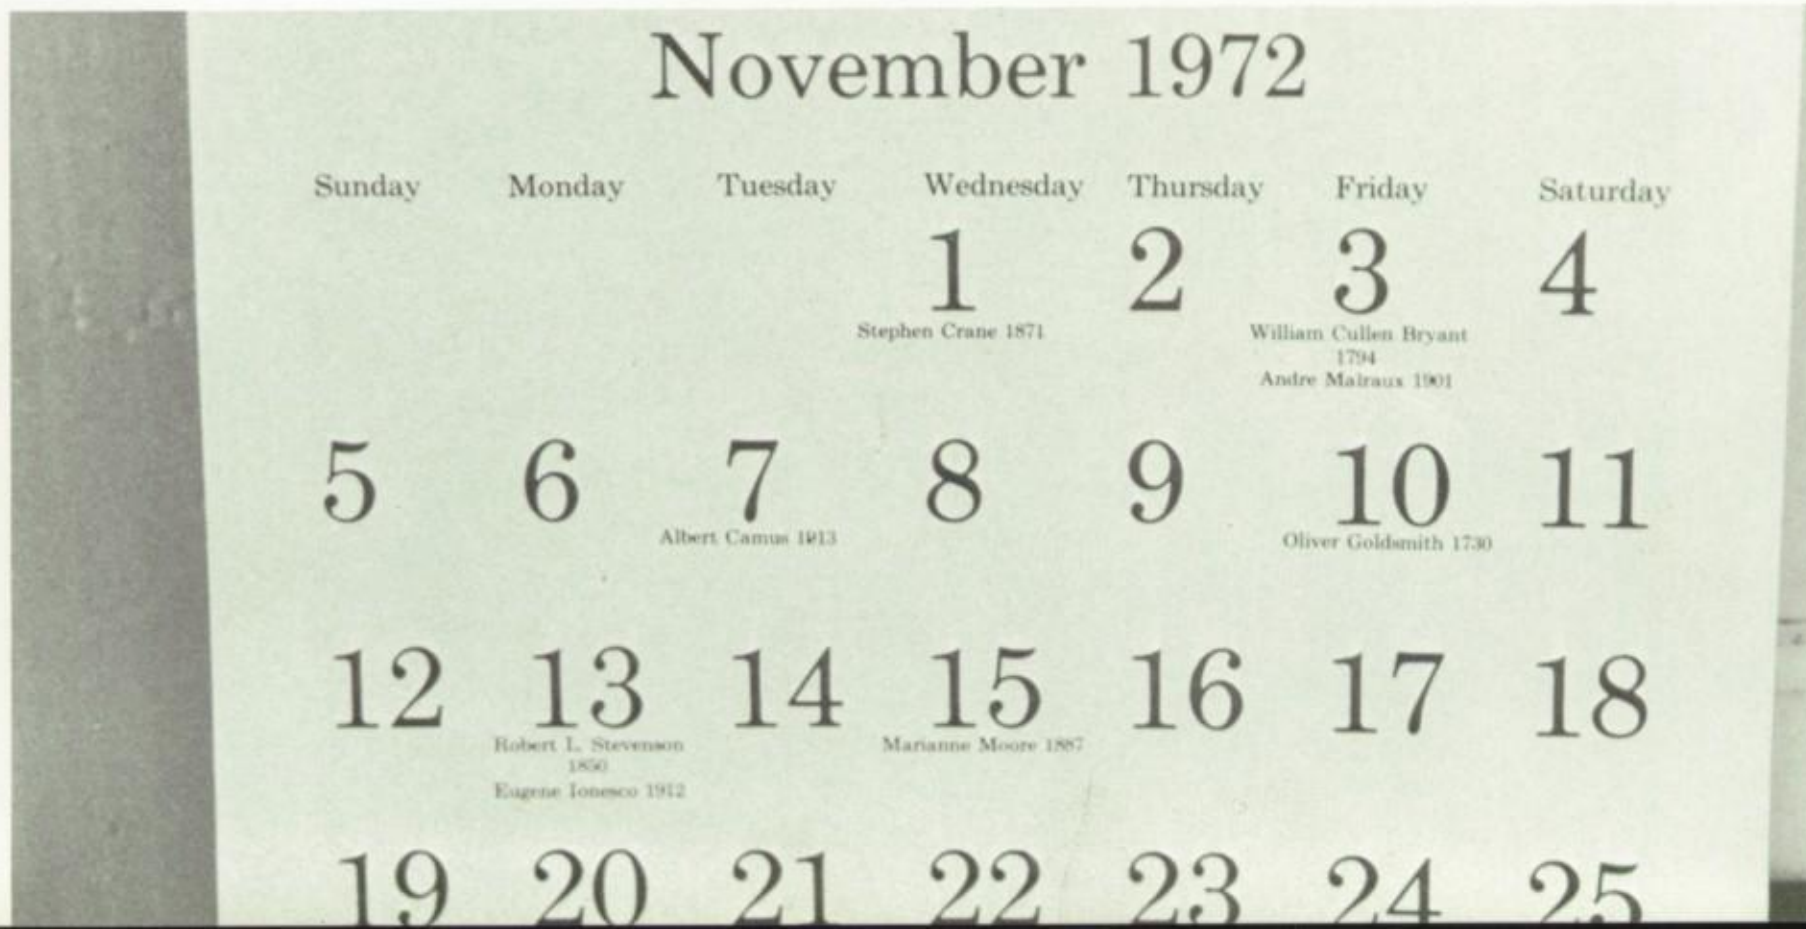




This is Mrs. Doris Lane's first year at Germantown. Prior to coming here she was acting Vice-principal at Schumacher Junior High School for two and one half years. As a newcomer, Mrs. Lane has been most impressed with the quietness in the halls and the general courtesy and friendliness of the faculty members.

However, she feels that among our problems are "overcrowded conditions and lack of money." Mrs. Lane also states that we haven't been able to get across that education is a total commitment and responsibility for both students and faculty.

To the seniors she says, "Set a goal and stick to it. Be available to help but don't center your life around begging and handouts."



Mr. Donald Koster is acting Vice-Principal for Mr. John Hamilton. He is also an assistant football coach.

Mr. Koster feels that the main problem facing our school system is money. The other problem he cites is the apathy of students toward school spirit.

A major asset of the school, according to Mr. Koster, is the fact that we have a "solid core of hard-working, dedicated teachers."

In the future Mr. Koster hopes that the "community around Germantown will become more aware of the needs of its young people and bring about an end to the useless destruction of its young people."

In conclusion, Mr. Koster says to the graduating class of 1973, "Never quit. When spirits are down, try to be optimistic and discipline yourself toward achieving your goals."

Mr. John L. Edwards, the new Department Head of History this year, has gained much of his experience and knowledge from teaching at South Philly, Gratz, and Malcolm X High Schools. He started many new programs at different schools and at Malcolm X he started a program where the seniors can get college credit for certain high school classes. He feels that if the faculty and student body would work together, Germantown would have the potential to become the best high school in the city. Mr. Edwards also feels that his appointment to Germantown High School will provide him with a good educational experience.

She feels that the facilities in Germantown's Commerce Department are just as good or better than in most high schools in Philadelphia. They have a stenography lab and the office practice class has a large variety of updated machinery. Germantown also has an excellent work study program. In conclusion, Mrs. Wilson states that "the most important element, in addition to the teachers and equipment, is the students' desire to learn."

Committee of Ten

The Committee of Ten fills the students' need for leadership and organization of school activities.

Student Activities

Germantown High School offers a variety of opportunities for students to participate in extracurricular activities. Some of the activities have been around this school as long as the school has been here — organizations like band, choir, athletics. Others come and go with student initiative and interest. Often a lot of pages of group pictures seems tedious but they are important because they represent those people who seek to give something back to the school.

The National Honor Society is composed of students who have met requirements of character, leadership, scholarship, and service.

Ombudsmen are elected annually by students, and are trained to offer counsel about students' rights.

Election Committee — The election committee organizes procedures for electing school and class officers.

Senior Seal Committee — This committee is in charge of compiling points for seniors who are trying to earn the Senior Seal, an award given for outstanding participation in activities.

Bulletin Board Committee — This group is responsible for keeping the hall bulletin boards up-to-date and attractive.

Bill Of Rights Committee — This committee is charged with the responsibility of guardianship of students' rights.

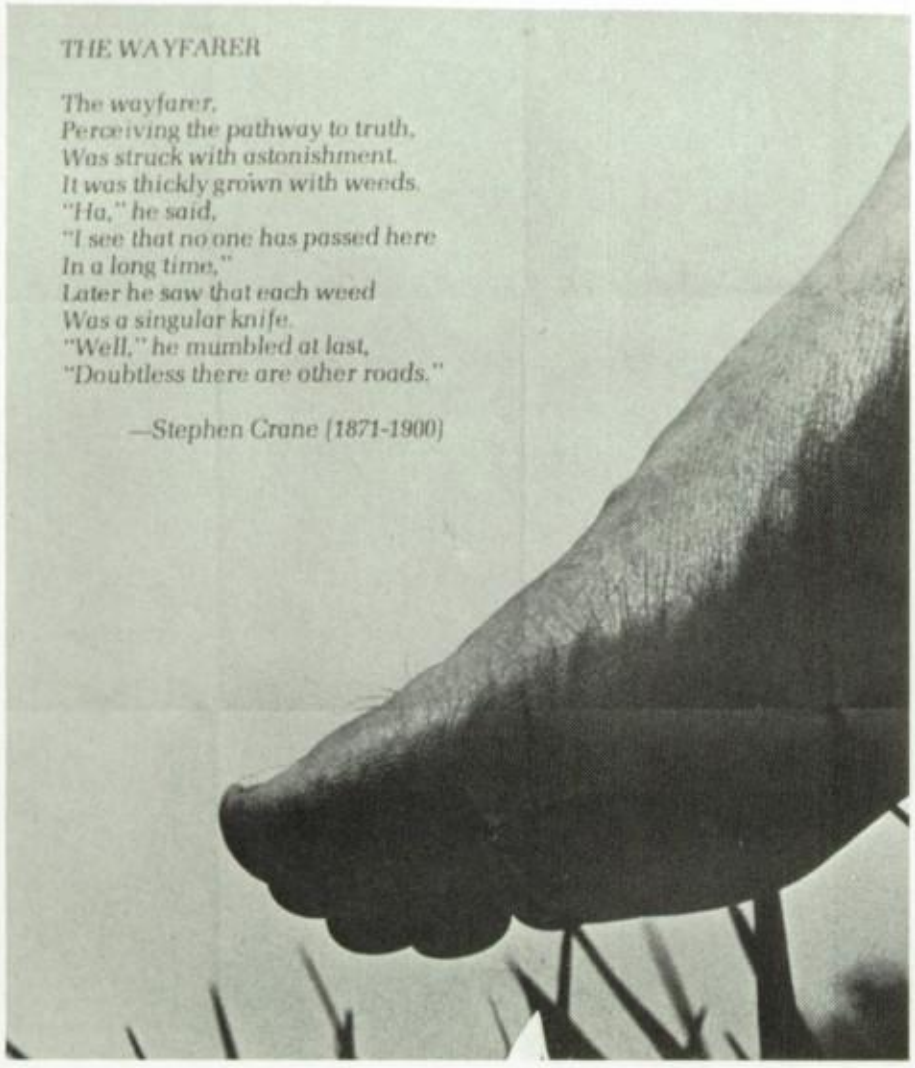
Dean Of Boys' Office Aides — These people help facilitate (run errands) the workings of the Dean of Boys' office.

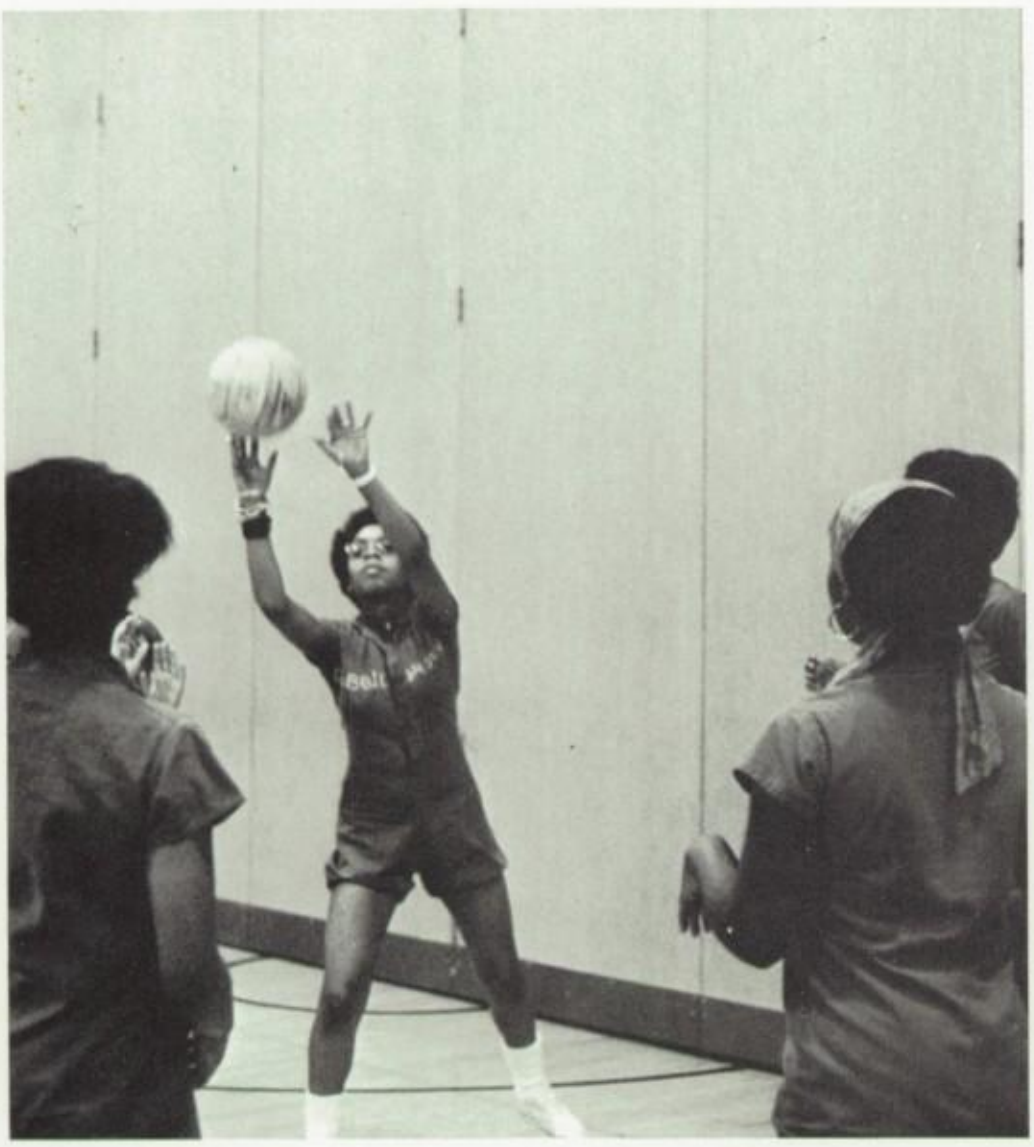
Special Activities — The Special Activities Committee is credited with the planning of many student activities, such as Pep Rallies, Dances and the Celebrity Assembly.

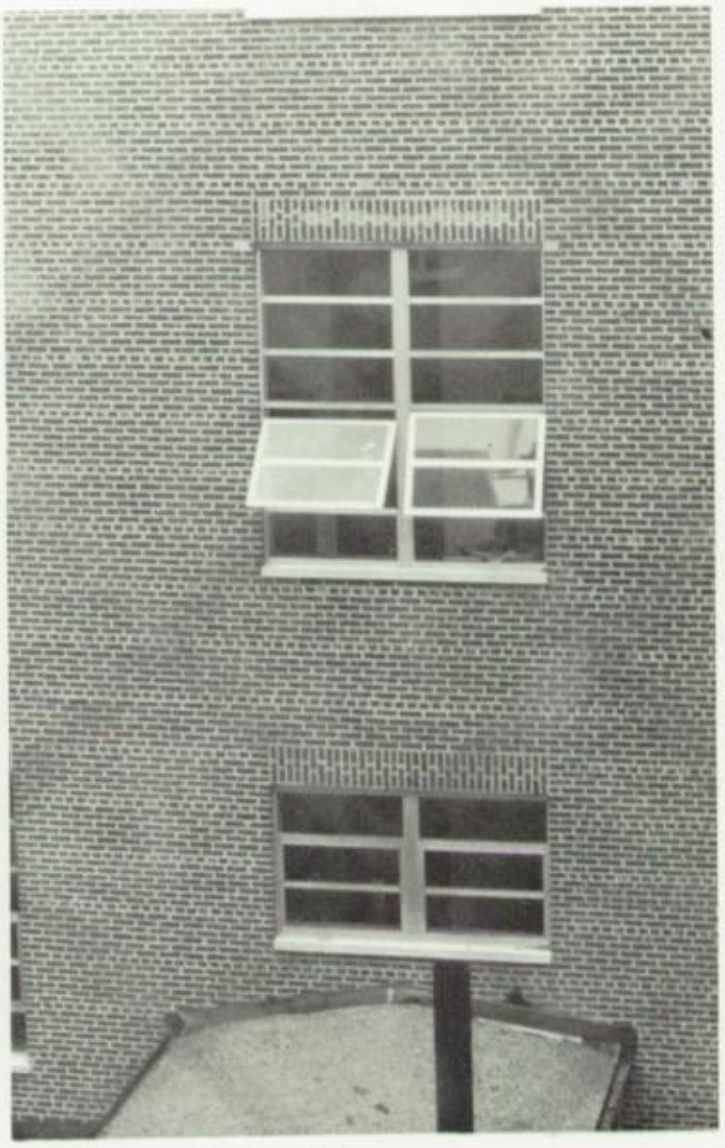
THE WAYFARER

The wayfarer,
Perœiving the pathway to truth,
Was struck with astonishment.
It was thickly grown with weeds.
"Ha," he said,
"I see that no one has passed here
In a long time,"
Later he saw that each weed
Was a singular knife.
"Well," he mumbled at last,
"Doubtless there are other roads."

—Stephen Crane (1871-1900)

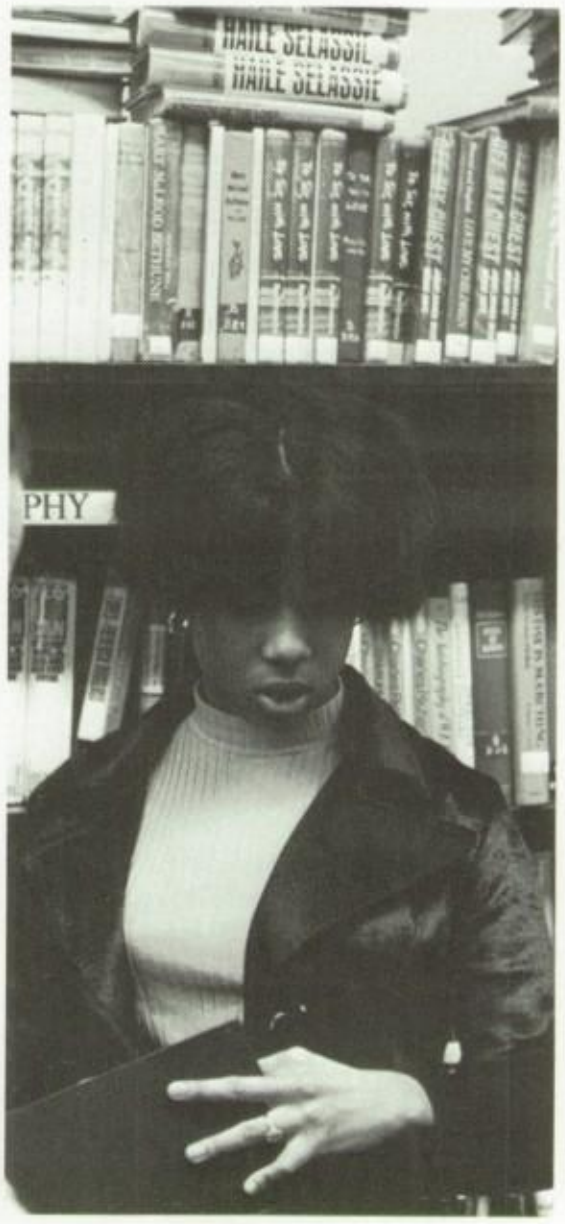




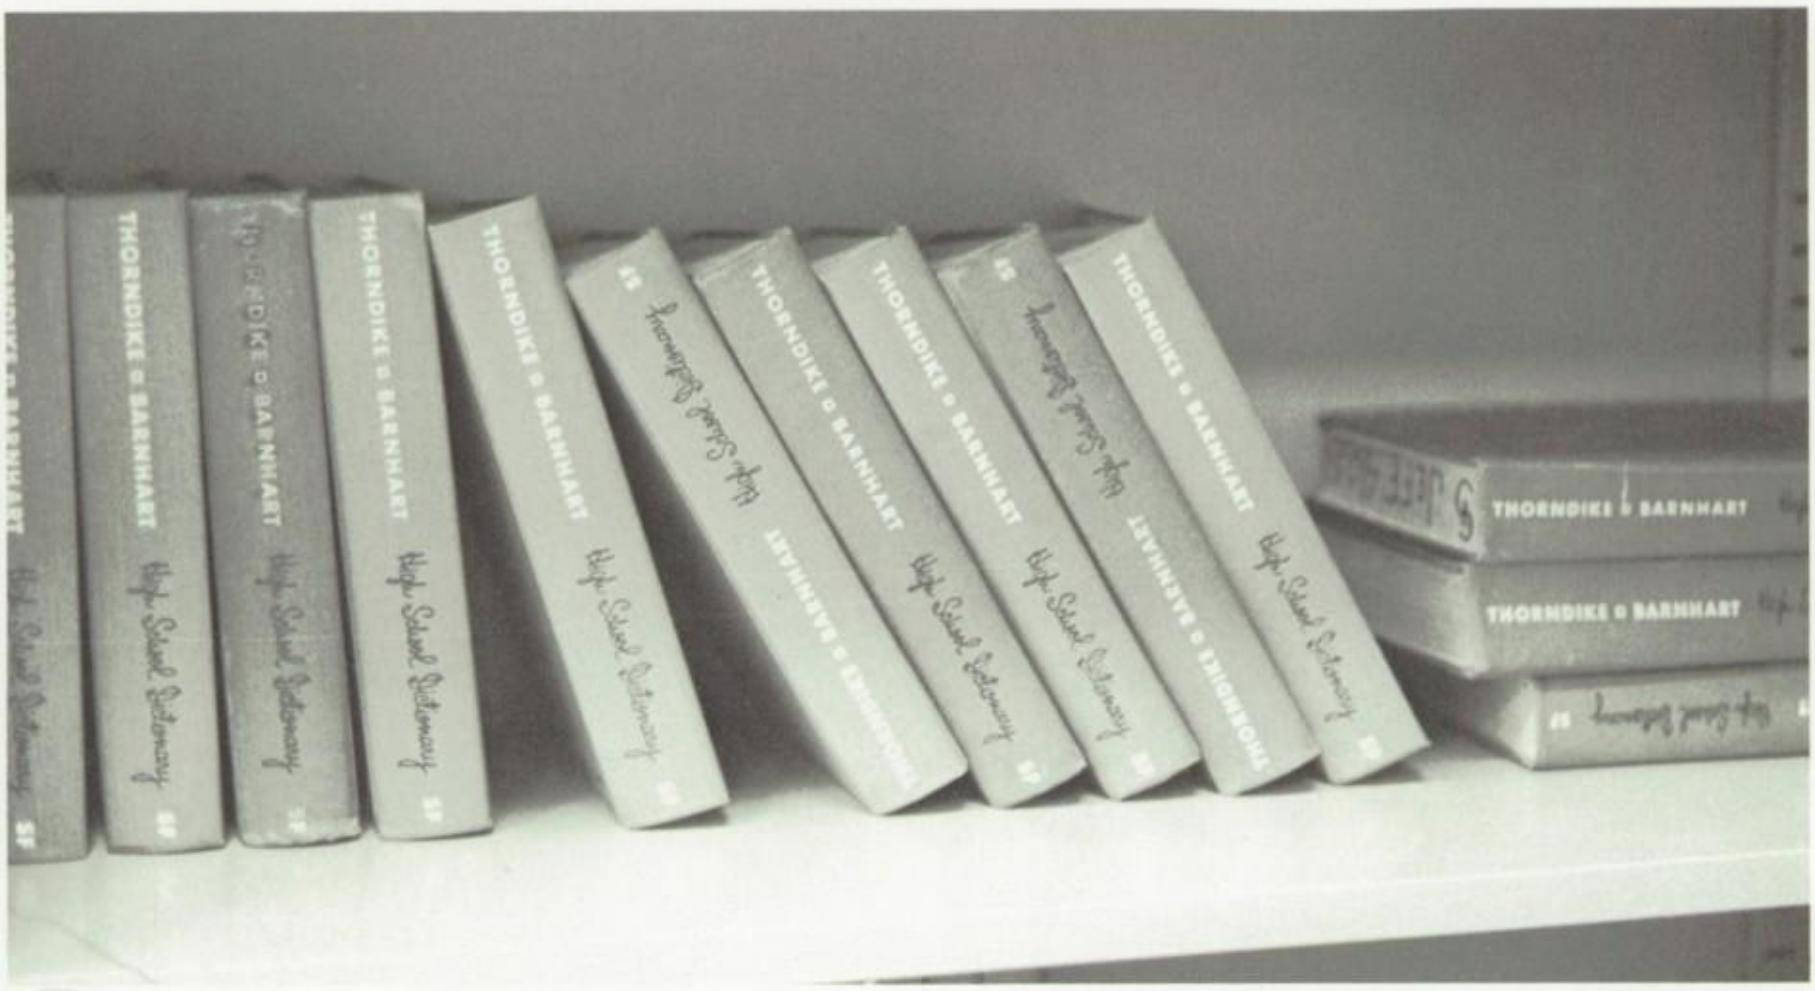


Assembly Committee — This committee assists in planning assembly programs. They also keep the assembly in order.

Senior Advisors — They assist our freshmen students arriving at Germantown. They also inform them about rules and policies of our school and what our school is really all about.

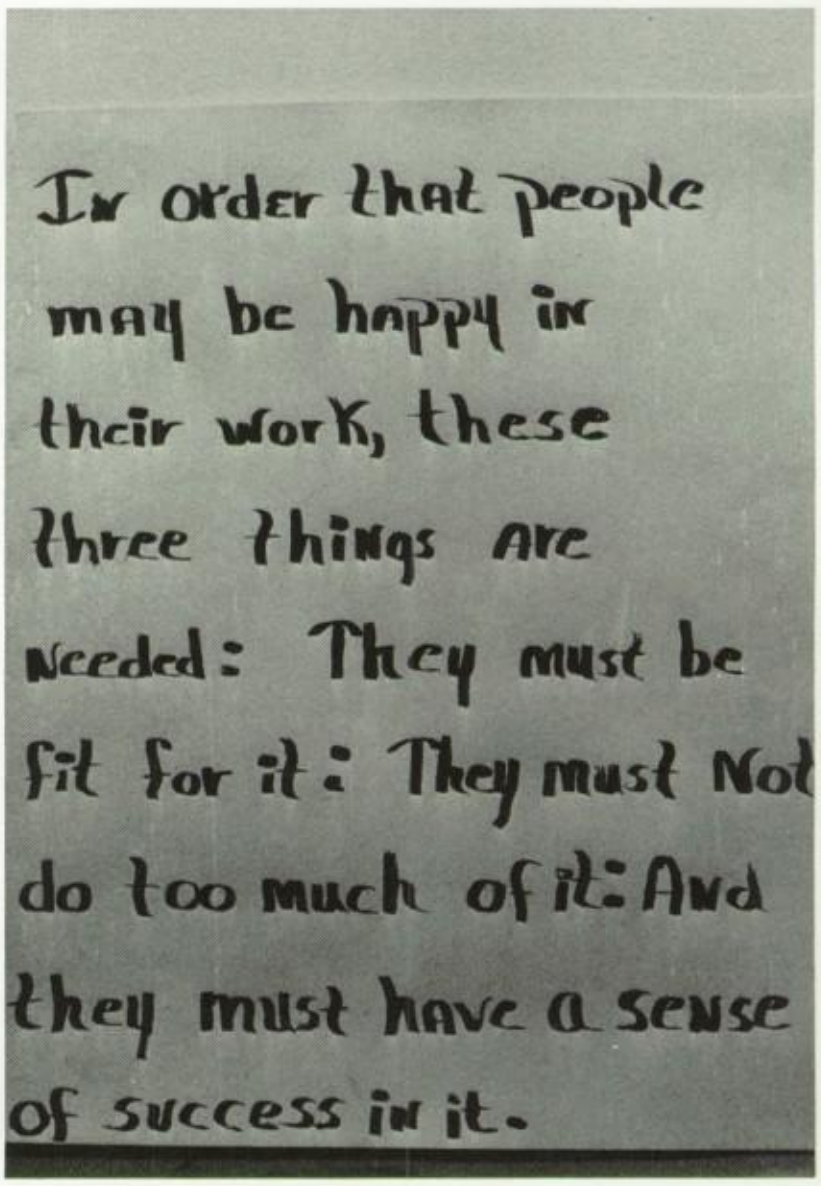


Skills to do comes of doing.



Commerce Aide — An aide to the Commerce Department serves in the capacity of helper and secretary to the department.

Senior Class Representatives are elected by their advisories to make decisions on policies, class buttons and class themes.



In order that people

Counselors' Aides — These aides run errands, get students out of classes, and answer telephones for the counselors.

Roster Office Aides — Roster aides serve in much the same capacity as counselors' aides but they do it for the roster office.

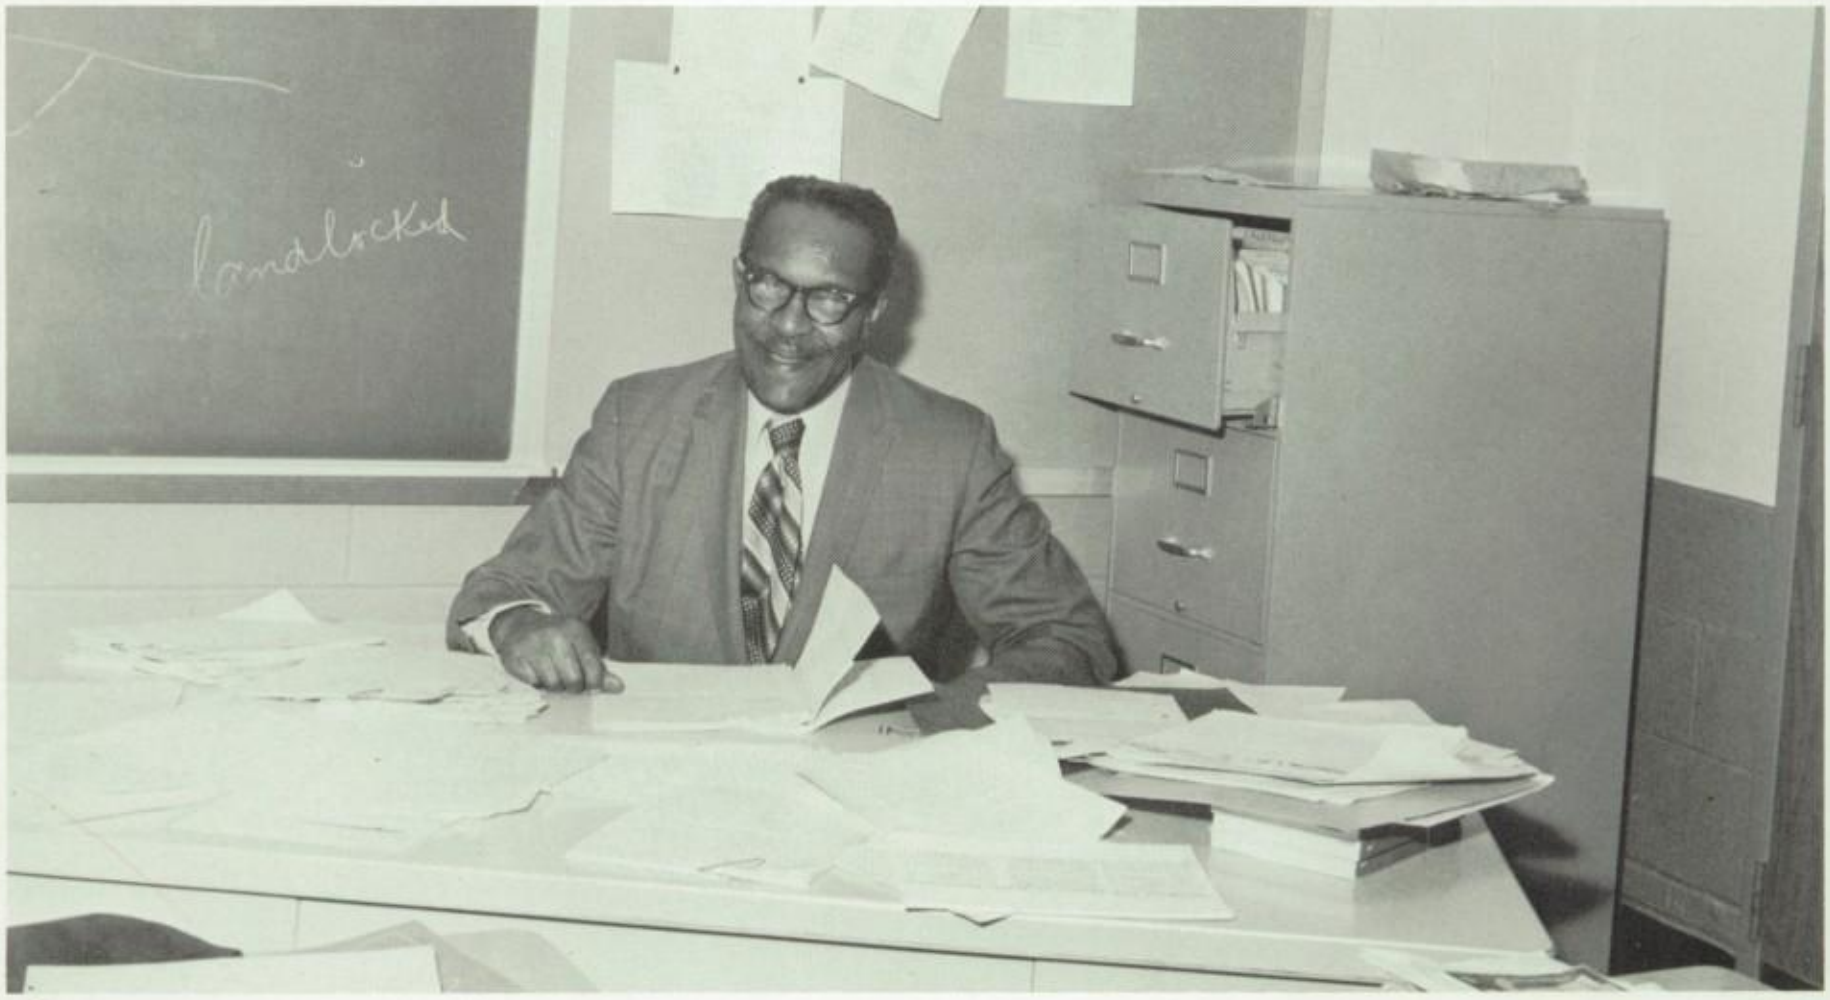
Finance Aides — These aides handle and disperse money collected in the various advisory drives.

Office Aides — The task of office aides is to help and assist the secretaries in the main office.

Nurse's Aides do the errands and foot work for nurse's office.

Library Aides assist the librarians with clerical work, shelving and services.

Dean of Girls' Aides assist the office of dean of girls and help them track down students.



Mr. John Hamilton is one of the Vice Principals at G-Town. Unfortunately he was out sick at the beginning of the year, but his main concern as Vice Principal is to help all of our youth to the best of his ability.

He also feels that we have an excellent teaching staff, as well as students who are willing and ready to learn. Mr. Hamilton feels that the community has become more aware of young people's needs and is trying to help them.

Aspects of Germantown Mr. Hamilton is unhappy about are the lack of school spirit and self-pride. He is also disappointed with the small minority of students who don't want to learn.

In the future Mr. Hamilton hopes that G-Town will be the best school in the city as far as academic achievement and togetherness are concerned.

Mr. Hamilton hopes that the graduates of '73 will "realize that education is most important in life." This doesn't mean you have to go to college but you do need some kind of skill. In conclusion he states "Education is the key to every man's success. You just have to have it — so go get it."

Bear Green is Mean!

The Germantown football team finished the season at .500. We proudly contributed three outstanding players to the all-public league: Ned Rice, Richard Musgrave and Michael Smith. Two players, Richard Musgrave and Ned Rice, made all-city. Here are some reactions to the season from the team members and coach. R. Coplin, Q.B.: Everybody was pulling together with a positive attitude and learning by our mistakes. Duck, H.B.: The first half of the season we were really together. After Bartram, morale began to sink. H. Levy, L.G.: The cause of our winning was unity and our losing was because there are too many superstars. D. Abrams, Q.B.: It takes two things to win — the team's good attitude and ability. One without the other won't work. Coach Johnson: I personally feel attitude was good on and off the field and that the team accomplished much by togetherness.

Germantown's Soccer Team had an outstanding year winning the Northern Division title. They were finally upset by Lincoln in the semi-finals of the Public League Championship. They finished the season 7-2-1.

Out of this great team three players made the all-scholastic team which consisted of the best 97 soccer players in the city. They were Joey Saunders, Center Fullback; Ronny Cook, Center Forward; and Tom Rooker, Goal Keeper. Ronny Cook went on to make the All-City team.

Coach Dan Kopychenski had something to prove to the city of Philadelphia. He was out to show that Germantown High could compete in any Public League sport in this city. He proved it by fielding a soccer team that took on and defeated many comers. He also proved that there is a wealth of soccer talent at G-town.

Germantown Bears have a stomping reputation, why stomping, because we stomped over schools like Olney, Gratz and West Philly. The top defeat was when the Bears avenged last year's loss to Bartram High. The strike did affect the season and the potential of the 1973 basketball team was never fully realized.

Comments from the team:

Andre Glenn: I think most of the team put all they had into it.

Stanley Green: Talent and skill utilized in the right way was the cause of our winning.

George Johnson: I feel that the strike hampered our chance considerably.

Michael Mack: Unity among the players wasn't as good as it should have been. The team just wasn't close enough.

Jerry Butler: Skill and talent among the team isn't worth a dime without working together.

Comments from the coach:

Mr. Nelson: The team had a lot of potential in the beginning of the season. The circumstance of the strike, the lack of practice, and the timing proved to squelch a lot of the spark and enthusiasm seen early in the season.

We've come too far
to end
now . . .

I would like to leave you, the class of "73", with this challenge. We've had a bumpy year with many ups and downs, but we've made it! Most of us have had to work a little harder to do it. As you leave Germantown High School, I hope this book will be a reflection for all of you of all the joys and sorrows you experienced here, but I also hope each of you will see in this ending a new beginning as you seek to fulfill your dreams beyond these walls.

Dear Jerry,

There's so many things to be said that can't possibly be put into words without the help of actors. My feelings for you are much stronger than you think (I'm sure) I realize that now is not the time for us But maybe someday we'll meet at a future time and the feeling we have for each other will speak for itself.

I wish you the best of Luck in Lincoln and where ever your good fortune sends you. You're a wonderful person with the mentality to make it. So don't let me down. I plan to see your name in lights in the future

And when you make it there:

Remember Me Always

As

The sweet a adorable person

I am (SMILE)

Love Ya

Always
